

Expression of Interest: Registered Nurse Accreditation Committee

Australian Nursing and Midwifery Accreditation Council

The Australian Nursing and Midwifery Accreditation Council (ANMAC) is seeking Expressions of Interest for a registered nurse academic with current registration and experience in curriculum development for registered nurse programs.

ANMAC is the independent accrediting authority for nursing and midwifery education under Australia's National Registration and Accreditation Scheme. ANMAC helps protect the health and safety of the Australian community by establishing high-quality standards of nursing and midwifery education, training, and assessment. ANMAC is responsible for facilitating the development of accreditation standards in consultation with our stakeholders. ANMAC is also responsible for determining whether programs of study leading to registration as a nurse or midwife in Australia meet the required accreditation standards.

The general skills required of a committee member are:

- Experience in the delivery of an entry to practice RN program
- Knowledge of the accreditation functions performed by ANMAC
- Experience and knowledge of the Registered Nurse Accreditation Standards.
- Experience and knowledge of higher education administrative processes and structures
- Ability to synthesise complex information

Further information about ANMAC can be found on the ANMAC website.

ANMAC will provide support, induction and training for new committee members.

Expressing interest in a position

Please review the above skills required for the position of committee member and if you are interested in applying, please provide a curriculum vitae and write a summary addressing the above competencies for the position.

Address your expression of interest to the Director Accreditation Services, Dr Margaret Gatling and email to accreditation@anmac.org.au by Monday 26 June 2023.